Tudor House's Geoffrey Zakarian isn't the only restaurant man shaking up the Miami hotel restaurant scene. No, sir. Today, Miamians--and Gucci-clad visitors to Bal Harbour--get to meet Mister Collins, the new restaurant at ONE Bal Harbour Resort & Spa.

As you can see from this photo snapped by The Feast, the restaurant's most exciting feature is its huge outdoor patio overlooking the Atlantic Ocean and Baker's Haulover Inlet.

Inside, the look is 'beach chic,' with floor-to-ceiling glass windows, white linens, gray leather seats and hardwood walnut floors.

The food, you ask? It's what you'd expect from a $350-a-night hotel: upscale American dishes including prime New York strip, Maryland jumbo lump crab cakes, and Ahi tuna salad. The restaurant claims that everything is made from scratch in-house--even ice-cream, dressings and ketchup.

But us, we're simple folk and we like the look of the cheese biscuits and cornbread fingers from the bread basket, as captured by The Feast's Janie Campbell.

You can see the complete menu on the restaurant's website. Mister Collins is now open for breakfast, lunch and dinner seven days a week. Real Housewives of Miami 'stars' sightings are not guaranteed but highly likely...
